Element 1: Making sense of beliefs Identifying and making sense of religious and non-religious beliefs and concepts; understanding what these beliefs mean within their traditions; recognising how and why sources of authority (such as texts) are used, expressed and interpreted in different ways, and developing skills of interpretation.	- identify core beliefs and concepts studied and give a simple description of what they mean - give examples of how stories show what people believe (e.g. the meaning behind a festival) - give clear, simple accounts of what stories and other texts mean to believers	- identify and describe the core beliefs and concepts studied - make clear links between texts/ sources of authority and the core concepts studied - offer informed suggestions about what texts/sources of authority can mean and give examples of what these sources mean to believers	- identify and explain the core beliefs and concepts studied, using examples from texts/sources of authority in religions - describe examples of ways in which people use texts/sources of authority to make sense of core beliefs and concepts - give meanings for texts/sources of authority studied, comparing these ideas with some ways in which believers interpret texts/sources of authority	- give reasoned explanations of how and why the selected core beliefs and concepts are important within the religions studied - taking account of context(s), explain how and why people use and make sense of texts/sources of authority differently - in the light of their learning, explain how appropriate different interpretations of texts/sources of authority are, including their own ideas
Element 2: Understanding the impact Examining how and why people put their beliefs into practice in diverse ways, within their everyday lives, within their communities and in the wider world.	- give examples of how people use stories, texts and teachings to guide their beliefs and actions - give examples of ways in which believers put their beliefs into practice	- make simple links between stories, teachings and concepts studied and how people live, individually and in communities - describe how people show their beliefs in how they worship and in the way they live - identify some differences in how people put their beliefs into practice	- make clear connections between what people believe and how they live, individually and in communities - using evidence and examples, show how and why people put their beliefs into practice in different ways, e.g. in different communities, denominations or cultures	- give reasons and examples to account for how and why people put their beliefs into practice in different ways, individually and in various communities (e.g. denominations, times or cultures; faith or other communities) - show how beliefs guide people in making moral and religious decisions, applying these ideas to situations in the world today
